Book Blurbs...by Kate Foley

Dumplin' by Julie Murphy

Willowdean Dickson, Dolly Parton lover and self-proclaimed fat girl, is taken aback when her crush seems to reciprocate her feelings. In order to regain her confidence, she decides to enter a beauty contest and show that she deserves to be up on the stage as much as any skinny girl does.

Find it in the library at J/TEEN/MUR.

The Hate U Give by Angie Thomas

One of the most beloved YA novels of 2017, The Hate U Give follows Starr Carter in her struggle to straddle two different worlds: her poor neighborhood and her predominately white and rich prep school. To complicate matters further, Starr's childhood best friend is shot and killed by a police officer, and Starr is the sole witness.

Find it in the library at J/TEEN/THO and J/TEEN/CD/THO.

Also available as an ebook.

Truly Devious by Maureen Johnson

Stevie Bell is set to attend acclaimed private school Ellingham Academy whose founder has a tragic past: his wife and daughter were kidnapped soon after it opened, and the only clue was a bewildering riddle and the killer's alias "Truly Devious." The case went unsolved, but Stevie is determined to crack it, especially once Truly Devious makes a shocking return.

Find it in the library at J/TEEN/JOH.

Simon vs. the Homo Sapiens Agenda by Becky Albertalli

Closeted gay teen Simon Spier has been trading anonymous e-mails with another student at his school who goes by the name of Blue. They're both falling for each other, even though they have no idea who the other is. But when a classmate of Simon's finds his e-mails and blackmails him, things get messy fast.

Find it in the library at J/TEEN/ALB. Also available as an ebook.

Station Eleven by Emily St. John Mandel

A suspenseful post-apocalyptic novel, Station Eleven flashes back and forth in time to tell the story of a theater troupe and how the sudden death of a famous Hollywood actor connects them all.

Find it in the library at FIC/MAN, LP/FIC/MAN, and CD/FIC/MAN.

"Darkest Hour"

Academy Award winning actor Gary Oldman stars as Winston Churchill during the beginning of his career as Prime Minister. He must decide whether now is the time to negotiate with Hitler or continue the war.

Find it in the library at DVD/DAR and BLU/DAR.

Andrew Weidman is a freelance garden writer living in Lebanon, PA. His articles have appeared in Heirloom Gardener, Cappers' Farmer and Grit magazines, and cover such diverse topics as gardening for bees and growing eggplants to catching honeybee swarms and avoiding poison ivy. He is Vice President of the Backyard Fruit Growers, a grassroots group dedicated to helping people grow their own healthy fruit, based in Lancaster County. He is also a former Penn State Master Gardener, serving Lebanon County from 2008 to 2012.

Is This Thing On?, Job Searching in a Digital Age, and Tech Help sessions will be offered in April.

New in May: additional Tech Help sessions Wednesdays 10am—2pm. Registration is required. Sponsored by The Bishop Foundation.
