It's OK to talk about death

A special companion series for
The Collected Regrets of Clover

The Aging Inspired Advance Care Planning Coalition and the Lebanon Community Library invite you to join us Mon., Oct. 27 from 2-4pm.

Hear from a certified Death Doula on the importance of support in end-of-life care. A death doula is a trained nonmedical professional who provides emotional, physical, and educational support for someone nearing death. In this program, a certified death doula will share about her role, her supportive services, and how she complements both palliative care and hospice services. Valuable planning resources will be shared with participants.

Contact the library at 717-273-7624 to register. For more information, please contact Mary Lawhead at 717-330-8904 or mlawhead@caringhospice.com

Help a Book Change a Life – One Story at a Time

Every book has a journey.

It begins with an idea—an author putting words to page, hoping to spark something in someone else. But the real story starts when that book finds its way into a library. That’s when it begins to do what it was made to do: reach someone at the right moment.

Maybe it’s a child who’s never owned a book but finds their favorite one on our shelves. Maybe it’s a job-seeker learning a new skill. Or someone simply trying to feel a little less alone.

That book matters. And you can be the reason it’s there.

Each year, our Buy a Book campaign helps grow our collection—one meaningful title at a time. You can sponsor a book in your name, or in honor or memory of someone special. Your gift will place that book on our shelves, ready to begin its journey.

It’s not just about pages and covers. It’s about the hands that hold them and the lives they touch.

Be the reason someone finds the right book at the right time.

Sponsor a Book Today

Thank you for believing in stories—and the power they have to change lives.

Thank you for being such an important part of our library. Because of you, books and ideas reach the people who need them most.

Power of budgeting for teens

Establishing healthy financial habits is important and can help drive you toward a successful financial future. During this Edward Jones Financial Fitness program, we will explore the power of budgeting and goal setting and build an understanding of credit and bank accounts. You’re not alone in the journey ahead. We’re here to help. Ready to learn together?

We hope you will join us.

This is a FREE Event but registration is required.
